

VEER...design with unlimited direction

The stunning, yet simple aesthetic of the Veer Table Series is an achievement in understated design. With its clean lines and neutral finishes, this indoor and outdoor collection allows the architectural designs or natural beauty of its surroundings to take center stage.

The Veer Table Series can be dressed up for use in formal meeting spaces or paired with more casual pieces to create a comfortable gathering place in any setting.

VEER...turn the corner

Whether you are outfitting an intimate meeting room or a vast gathering place, the Veer Table Series is flexible enough to fit any occasion. Both indoor and outdoor versions can be fitted with round, square, or rectangle tops in a range of standard and custom sizes.

The textured stainless steel finish included on all Veer table bases offer visual appeal in addition to strength and durability. Bistro height bases are available on certain round and square tabletop sizes for added style and functionality.
