Mile Marker lockers

We're on the move! And, as we navigate each day, everyone needs that central hub where they can securely store personal belongings, swap out items for the next meeting and charge devices. Lockers provide flexibility and convenience for today's mobile environments supporting efficient transitions for individuals as they move from place to place.

Additionally, even areas that have individuals with more dedicated spaces, lockers support a clean and professional aesthetic by offering places for people to stow personal items, such as coats and gym bags.

Your spaces have to perform for your people. The broad offering and smart design of Mile Marker lockers, including integrated power, enables a tailored solution to support the variety of personal storage needs your organization needs for a productive environment.
